PROFILE

I am currently a third-year undergraduate studying software engineering. As a future software engineer graduate I am confident in my maths, computer programming problem, and solving skills. All my experience At college, work and, In my private life have lead me to be able to; work in team-based environments, stressful situations, be able to adapt very quickly for customer/boss needs, see the bigger picture in anything I do, understand consequences of taking certain actions, problem-solving to allow for more efficient solutions. I am autodidact and great self worker but also value and love working in a team. With my time In the military and Blink.gg I know the support I show to my co-workers is unparalleled. My work ethic is the best bar none.
